

Conflict of interest form for council

Name: Seth S. Leopold, MD

Date: January 1, 2018

Conflicts of interest (COI) arise where there is a divergence between an individual's responsibilities to COPE Council and their other interests, such that an individual's motives might be compromised, or perceived to be compromised. COIs are important since Council members' opinions and actions must be, and be seen to be, impartial. COI of all council members are collected on election and annually thereafter.

COI include, but are not limited to, the following. Council members are required to disclose any of the following:

All relevant financial relationships with commercial interests (entities producing, marketing, re-selling, or distributing goods or services) in any amount as well as the nature of the relationship (personal or immediate family) within the past 5 years, eg:
--

Grant/research support:

Consultancies:

Membership of speakers' bureaux:

Patent ownership:

Membership of scientific advisory board:
--

Membership of board of directors: I am an ex-officio member of the Board of Trustees of Clinical Orthopaedics and Related Research, the journal for which I serve as editor. I am not paid for this role.

Stock shareholding (directly purchased):

Other financial support (eg, honoraria, travel grants, gift, royalties) (please specify):

I serve as the Editor-in-chief of Clinical Orthopaedics and Related Research , a large, international, general-interest orthopaedic journal. The society that owns this journal, the Association of Bone and Joint Surgeons, pays for 0.8 (80%) of my salary to support this role through a contract with the University of Washington, my employer.

Any non-financial relationships/affiliations relevant to COPE (please specify):
